SPRING 1991

Volume 5, Number 1

Ann Parsons Appointed

Anne H. Parsons has been appointed general manager of the Hollywood Bowl and the recently formed Hollywood Bowl Orchestra, effective April 1, it was announced by Los Angeles Philharmonic Executive Vice President and Managing Director Ernest Fleischmann. Parsons, who has been orchestra manager of the Boston Symphony since 1983, is assuming primary responsibility for the Bowl's programming and operations, as well as for the concert, recording and touring activities of the Hollywood Bowl Orchestra. The general managership of the Bowl has been held for the past two years by Wayne Shilkret, who, in electing not to renew his contract, left the top position open. In the Philharmonic's administrative structure, Parsons will report to Fleischmann.

Anne H. Parsons entered the field of orchestral management as a participant in the Management Fellowship program of the American Symphony Orchestra League following her graduation from Smith College in 1980 with a bachelor of arts degree. From 1981 to 1983 she was associated with the National Symphony (Washington, D.C.), first as administrative assistant to the executive director, then as orchestra manager. Since 1983, she has been the orchestra manager of the Boston Symphony, where her responsibilities have included assisting the managing director in setting and maintaining orchestra policy on issues of personnel, scheduling, and all operations involving the Boston Symphony. Her responsibilities have included assisting the managing director in setting and maintaining orchestra policy on issues of personnel, scheduling, and all operations involving the Boston Symphony, the Boston Pops and Boston Pops Esplanade Orchestras in Symphony Hall, Tanglewood, and on tour. She has also assisted conductor John Williams with all aspects of Boston Pops activities, including artistic matters.

Anne Parsons was born in Schenectady, New York in 1957. ■

Hollywood Bowl Museum Honored

The Hollywood Bowl Museum was one of eight institutions honored at the second annual Legacy Awards, presented on November 7, 1990, at a gala dinner in the Hollywood Roosevelt Hotel. The awards were created by the Hollywood Entertainment Museum to recognize landmarks, buildings and organizations that have made contributions toward upgrading and revitalizing the Hollywood community. The Bowl Museum's director is Carol Merrill-Mirsky. ■

Hollywood Bowl Orchestra

The Hollywood Bowl Orchestra, a new orchestra to be conducted by John Mauceri, completely separate from the Los Angeles Philharmonic, will perform at the renowned outdoor concert center, record for Phillips Classics, and tour internationally. In the summer of 1991, the Hollywood Bowl Orchestra will play five weekend concerts, alternating with the Los Angeles Philharmonic on the Friday/Saturday events. The Philharmonic will still perform a minimum of 30 concerts during the summer season.

Not since 1945, when Leopold Stokowski was appointed music director of the ensemble he named the Hollywood Bowl Symphony, has there been a conductor in residence at the Bowl. As conductor of the Hollywood Bowl Orchestra, Mauceri will be on the podium for most of the ensemble's triple-pronged activities. ■

John Mauceri to Conduct Hollywood Bowl Orchestra

John Mauceri, music director of the Scottish Opera, will make his debut as conductor of the New Hollywood Bowl Orchestra this year.

Mr. Mauceri made his major orchestral conducting debut with the Los Angeles Philharmonic in 1974, replacing Josef Krips. Since then he has conducted, among others, the Cleveland Orchestra, Philadelphia Orchestra, Israel Philharmonic, the London Symphony (including serving as music director for the orchestra's Bernstein Festival), Royal Philharmonic and Philharmonic Orchestras (London), Orchestra of Santa Cecilia (Rome), French National Orchestra, the RSO/Berlin, the Minnesota Orchestra, Buffalo Philharmonic and San Francisco Symphony. In 1987 he won high praise when he conducted the Boston Pops on a national Tour of summer festivals, including the Hollywood Bowl. He has served as music director of the American Symphony Orchestra - the first conductor to have held this post since the orchestra's founder, Leopold Stokowski - and he also has held the music directorship of the Washington Opera.

John Mauceri has been associated with many premieres during his career, including the first American performances of Debussy's "Khamma", the world premiere of the original version of Charles Ives's "Three Places in New England", the European premiere of Leonard Bernstein's "Mass" (Vienna, 1973) as well as Bernstein's "A Quiet Place" (La Scala, Milan, 1984).

Deeply committed to the preservation of America's own musical heritage, John Mauceri was Consultant for Music Theater at the Kennedy Center from 1982 to 1990. He was also a member of the advisory panel of the National Endowment for the Arts as well as a trustee of the National Institute of Opera and Music Theater. He is currently a member of the advisory panels for the Charles Ives Society and the American Institute for Verdi Studies.

Born in New York City in 1945, John Mauceri graduated from Yale University and taught there for 15 years. In October 1985, he was awarded Yale University's first Alumni Arts Award for Outstanding Achievement. He made his professional conducting debut at Wolf Trap. He has recorded for CBS, RCA, Polydor, Decca, MCA, New World Records and Elektra/Nonesuch. In January, 1990, he received the Wavendon All Music Conductor of the Year Award from Great Britain's Princess Margaret. ■
